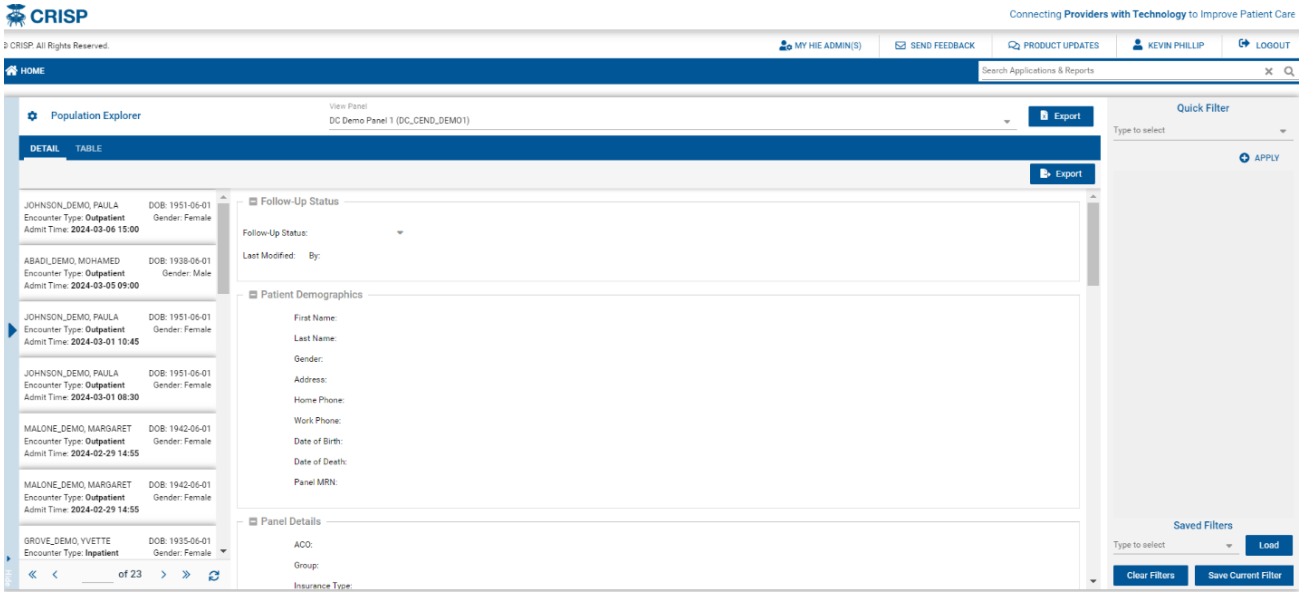
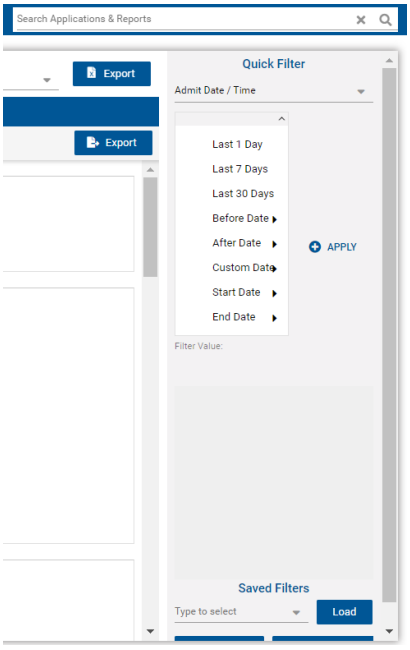
Filtering for Recent Events in Population Explorer

When viewing a panel, users may see future events populate first. Continue reading for instructions on how to filter for recent events only.



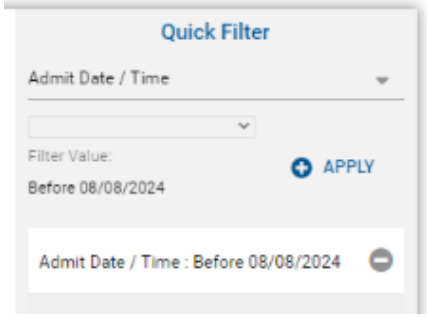
Viewing your Patient Panel



After you select a panel to view, events will populate for that panel on the left side of the screen. If patients on that panel have future outpatient visits scheduled, these future events may display at the top of the list. To see the most recent events first, users can utilize the filter option.

How to Filter

Filters can be applied to a panel by using the "Quick Filter" menu on the right side of the screen. After clicking the drop-down menu, select the "Before Date" category.



A calendar will pop up, allowing users to select the following day. This will ensure the most current notifications populate at the top of the list in real time.
